If You Were DYING TO-NIGHT

and I offered you something that would give you ten years more to live, would you take it? You'd grab it. Well, fellows, I've got it, but don't wait till you're dying or it won't do you a bit of good. It will then be too late. Right now is the time. Tomorrow, or any day, some disease will get you, and if you have not equipped yourself to fight it off you're gone. I don't claim to cure disease. I am not a medical doctor, but I'll put you in such condition that the doctor will starve to death waiting for you to take sick. Can you imagine a mosquito trying to bite a brick wall? A fine chance!

A Rebuilt Man

I like to get the weak ones. I delight in getting hold of a man who has been turned down as hopeless by others. It's easy enough to finish a task that's more than half done. But give me the weak, sickly chap and watch him grow strong! That's what I like. It's fun to me, because I know I can do it, and I like to give the other fellow the laugh. I don't just give you a veneer of muscle that looks good to others. I work on you both inside and out. I not only put big, massive arms and legs on you, but I build up those inner muscles that surround your vital organs—the kind that give you real pep and energy, the kind that fire you with ambition and the courage to tackle anything set before you.

All I Ask Is 90 Days

Who says it takes years to get in shape? Show me the man who makes such claims and I'll make him eat his words. I'll put one full inch on your arm in just 30 days. Yes, and two full inches on your chest in the same length of time. Meanwhile, I'm putting life and pep into your old backbone. And from then on, just watch 'em grow! At the end of the thirty days you won't know yourself. Your whole body will take on an entirely different appearance. But you've only started. Now come the real works. I've only built my foundation. I want just 60 days more (90 in all) and you'll make those friends of yours who think they're strong look like something the cat dragged in.

A Real Man

When I'm through with you, you're a real man. The kind that can prove it. You will be able to do things that you had thought impossible. And the beauty of it is you keep on going. Your deep, full chest breathes in rich, pure air, stimulating your blood and making you just bubble over with vim and vitality. Your huge, square shoulders and your massive, muscular arms have that craving for the exercise of a regular He Man. You have the flash to your eye and the pep to your step that will make you admired and sought after in both the business and social world.

This is no idle prattle, fellows. If you doubt me, make me prove it. Go ahead! I like it. I have already done this for thousands of others and my records are unchallenged. What I have done for them, I will do for you. Come, then, for time flies and every day counts. Let this very day be the beginning of new life to you.

Dear Mr. Liederman:

While I was in the Navy I read a lot about you and some of the books you have written, but it was not until I left the good old ship that I had the opportunity to personally investigate your methods of training.

I can readily say you have the finest course of physical culture that I have ever seen. Your method of teaching is inimitable and I can heartily recommend it and every one of your exercises to anyone who wants to build up his body and obtain the punch.

You are welcome to add this letter to your numerous others to help you make the world realize the value of exercise. No one will go wrong in taking your course, and I hope you will always continue your good work.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed)
JACK SHARKEY.

Dear Mr. Liederman:

For the benefit of mankind—for the middle-aged man—the over-fed man—the man with the aches and pains and imaginary troubles, take up Physical Culture as I did.

It has rejuvenated me in every part of my body and I am stronger and feel better than I have for years, and I am working hard and feel less tired at my work than when I was packing 208 pounds around all day.

Now I weigh 174, and I will gladly recommend to any one Earle E. Liederman's system of Physical Culture and I honestly think there is nothing better for health and happiness.

Yours truly,
WALDO E. SMITH,

Dear Sir:

With much pleasure, I am sending you some photos of myself which show the improvement I have made since I enrolled with you in January.

When I enrolled with you I weighed 121 pounds. By following your instructions I've put on 45 pounds of muscle. My chest increased 7 inches; my neck, 2½ inches; biceps, 4 inches; thigh, 4½ inches; calf, 1¼ inches.

All my life I had been backward and shy—never cared to mix with others. Now I have "pep" and "poise" and am making friends every day. With my bony figure I used to be jeered by everyone. Now my physique is the envy of many. Everyone who sees me is surprised at my wonderful development. For anyone who is not satisfied with his position in life, no matter what it be, I believe he can gain dominion quicker by building up a strong, rugged body, and your course is the best way I know to do it.

The largest photo was taken in April, only three months after I became your pupil. The skinny half-length photo shows the condition I was in January 19, the day I sent you my enrollment.

Thanking you a thousand times for your instruction and guidance to health and strength, I remain,

Yours truly,
TAPLEY C. PURCHES,

The above photographs and letters speak for themselves. It makes no difference whether you are over-stout or under-weight. I will transform your body and mould you into the true form of perfect manhood. Mr. Smith and Mr. Purches are by no means exceptional cases. They are only fair examples of what I have done for thousands. What I have done for them I am now ready to do for you. In fact I guarantee it. I await your command to prove it.
